

Form CRS – Client Relationship Summary June 2020

Introduction

Novak & Powell Financial Services Inc (“NPFS”) is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We feel that it is important for you to understand how advisory and brokerage services and fees differ in order to determine which type of account is right for you. There are free and simple tools available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investing.

Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

NPFS offers investment advisory services including, investment supervisory services to individuals, families, and businesses. These investment supervisory services consist of managing different investment products within each client’s portfolio. Portfolios are established to meet client objectives. Each portfolio is monitored on a regular basis and adjusted as necessary.

We manage investment accounts on a discretionary basis whereby we will decide which investments to buy and sell for your accounts. We have discretion until the advisory agreement is terminated by you or our firm.

We provide advice on various types of investments. Our services are not limited to a specific type of investment or product.

The minimum portfolio value is generally set at $500,000. NPFS may, at its sole discretion, make exceptions to this minimum portfolio value.

Additional information about our advisory services is located in Item 4 and Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/112970>.

Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

We charge an investment advisory fee that is computed as a percentage of the value of client assets under management. Depending upon the value of the account, the maximum annual rate is 2.25% with a majority of the accounts being charged well under this rate. All fees are negotiable. The fee is deducted quarterly and accounts are payable in advance or arrears depending upon the advisory agreement. The more assets there are in your account, the more you will pay in fees, and the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account.

Certain types of investments in your account such as mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and variable annuities charge additional fees that will reduce the value of your investment over time.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Additional information about our advisory services is located in Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/112970>.

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

At times, we may buy or sell securities that it has also recommended to clients. In recognition of this actual or apparent conflict of interest and in compliance with our fiduciary duty, the client's best interests will always be placed ahead of us. It is our policy we never have priority over another client account in the purchase or sale of securities.
